A SUMMER TO REMEMBER

Seniors Recap How They Spent Their Summer of 2019

One dish that always comes to mind when thinking about the food of summer is the açaí bowl. This Brazillian dish, that traditionally comes topped with fruit, granola, and honey, can be found all over the cape. It is a great snack for hot summer days, and makes for an even better post to add to your Instagram feed! Been craving one of these colorful creations? Here are some places to try out when you need your next fix:

A Nantucket Getaway

Caroline Oakley and Sydney Lancaster took a trip to Nantucket along with four other friends over the summer. The six girls celebrated Figawi Weekend on the island, by watching the race, walking around town, and relaxing at the beach.

Blessed in the West

This past summer was Christie Griffin's fourth and final year of attending JH Ranch, a Christian camp in California. This camp gave Christie many unforgettable experiences, such as biking 109 miles to the coast, being baptized, and meeting great people. Christie has been able to meet some of her best friends through this camp. Many of the people she has met live far away, but they still manage to keep in touch.

As alarms and phones sounded on Wednesday July 24, 2019, people prepared to bunker down for the possible tornado headed toward Cape Cod. At the highlight of the strom, wind speeds reached 110mph! With boats beached, cars tossed around, and trees knocked down, people were happy to be safe at the end of it all.

Eastern Equine Encephalitis (EEE) is a serious illness that has emerged as of the summer and fall of 2019. Summer 2019 was the summer for sharks. Shark posters were put up everywhere on the sandy coast of Cape Cod, informing the people who visit the beaches of their potential threat. It has been confirmed that sixty-six shark attacks have occurred. In the beginning of summer 2019, lifeguards were required to be tourniquet trained to assist potential attacked patrons.

Contrary to popular belief, sharks are not attracted to human blood, but patrol the water looking for seals.

You're a Catch!

On July 20, 2019, senior baseball player Matt Klett, played a game in Alabama against the New York team. On this memorable day, he hit a triple to win their game in the World Series. Matt felt pretty hyped up, and the Cape Cod team was excited too! Relieved from their win, they made it to another round in the World Series. Matt has committed to UMass Dartmouth to pursue his passion for baseball.

ERYTHING TO Prove

The boys of fall put in work for this season, and it all started when the last one ended. Participation in voluntary weight room sessions was at an all time high; they lifted in Building M everyday Teacher Appreciation Day after school from December until June. When school concluded, the football team endured even more rigorous workouts to outwork everyone. After becoming 7v7 champions over the summer, they looked forward to bigger and better victories. As the home opener against Xaverian approached, these young men had everything to prove. All their hard work paved the way for Xaverian's 20-14 defeat. The Raiders, led by Coach Jatkola, went on to a 5-2 record for the regular season, advancing to the sixth seed in the Division II South, and later falling to King Philip. Moreover, they boys continued on to be Cape League Champions in the first year of its existence. The annual Thanksgiving Day game, held at Falmouth this year, 7 vs. 7 Champs concludes the high school careers of seniors: Jack Galvin, Luke Locasio, Jadaro France, Chase Conroy, Keith Huska, Will Cogswell, Michael Martir, Patrick Spillane, Ted Ells, Max Kennedy, Jaron Affleck, Elijah Monteiro, Thomas Our, Alex Saladino, Thomas Lanman, Jack Needham, Bryan DaSilva, and senior captains: Harry Lanman, Nicholas Wilson, Brian Frieh, Colby Burke, Alex Saladino, and Declan Moriarty. The Raiders ended their season on a high note when they successfully sank the Falmouth Clippers during the Thanksgiving Game with a final score of 47-14, ending with season with a 7-4

DIG YELLOW

After class of 2015 alumni Olivia Brodt was diagnosed with Rhabdomyosarcoma cancer in her Senior year at Babson, the girls volleyball team was inspired to create an annual game in support of her battle with this extremely rare diagnosis. Olivia lives on in the program through her spirit that is instilled in and inspires every player who steps on the court with the number three on their left arm. Anyone who gazes at the banner of her retired jersey on the gym wall, ties their yellow shoelaces, or refills their water bottle in the newly donated fountain, is reminded of her strength. She may be no longer with us, but Olivia's presence is remains everywhere.

KILLINGIT

The Volleyball Girls are known for their fierce work ethic and determination. Through reading The Winner Within by Pat Riley, the girls learn lessons beyond the court. Some of these include perseverance as well as the power of teamwork and leadership. Their record of 20-3 exceeded expectations for the 2019 season, after the loss of last year's seniors. Although their season started off shaky, they bounced back hard-- earning the Division I South second seed for playoffs. Individual successes of the season also include libero Josie Deluga reaching the thousand dig mark and Coach Turco gaining his 700th win as a Barnstable High School Girls Volleyball coach, by beating Oliver Ames in the Division I South title game. Unfortunately, they fell to Winchester in a hard fought battle, that went into the fifth set, in the Division I State Semifinals. This ended the seasons and High School careers of senior captains Caroline Lewis, Dorian Funk, Josephine Deluga, Lauren Ogonowsky, and Shea Johnson. Dorian Funk and Josie Deluga will be continuing their volleyball careers at St. Lawrence and Bryant University in the fall of 2020.

The fall of 2019 brought the end of the cross country season for three senior girls including Caitlin Hatch, Kennedy Hunter and Linnea Fawkes. The ladies finished with a three and two record. They medalled in several invitationals including Cape and Islands League Meet, Twilight Meet, Ocean State, and Big Wave. This year their varsity team ran in the MIAA Eastern Massachusetts Divisional Championships. Linnea Fawkes holds the senior class record of a 20:47 time for her mile. With the help of Mr. Caldwell, this year was one of their strongest seasons yet. Catch Me if You Can Seniors Benjamin O' Toole, Ethan Weiner, Noah Colson and Logan Taylor have had an impressive year with their winning record of five and one. One highlight of the boys' season was the Wickham Race that they won. Ethan Weiner commented on how people should be on the look out next year for the up coming seniors, as they have potential to have a successful 2020 season. The boys said their final goodbyes to this sport of November 10 and will remember their last season for the rest of their lives.

JUST FOR

A SEASON FULL OF GOALS

Following three seasons with the previous coach, the boys soccer team welcomed Coach Samuel Viana in his rookie season this year. Coach Viana has coached youth soccer in the United States and Brazil, and was excited to bring his "modern soccer" approach to Barnstable. "The team started off very strong," mentioned Graham Hempstead. The overall team atmosphere was cohesive, focused, and respectful. The team was composed of a lot of different cultures, which the players attributed to helping them feel more connected. After a regular season full of hard work, the team made it to the playoffs. At this point, one common goal was shared among all of the players: getting past the first round. Unfortunately, in the first round of the playoffs they lost to Hingham with just thirty seconds left in the game. This does not discredit the impressive team they were and the wonderful season they had, though.

Though the tradition came about three years ago, it became sacred this season. Before each and every game the soccer girl participated in an energy circle. Junior captain, Morgan Dardia starts by squeezing the hand of the girl to the left of her and eventually that energy is transmitted around the whole circle, until reaching Morgan again. Other pregame rituals include participating in "Soccer Prayer" lead by sophomore, Molly Lamothe, and asking senior goalle, Reed Kjoller "What day is It?" to get everyone in the right mindset for warm-ups and the game

A Season for the Books

The girls soccer season came to a close on November 5, 2019 after a valiant effort against the Needham Rockets. Fortunately, this didn't ruin the players' spirits since they finished their regular season with a 11-2-2 record. Two things that made this team a force to be reckoned included their dedication to their community and to one another. Every Saturday, the girls would meet at 8:30 am to run clinics to empower youth players in the Barnstable community. Additionally, the players spent over $300 on groceries for the school's food pantry, using money earned from their own car wash. The girls consider themselves more than a team; they are family. From their commitment to their community and to one another, they fight hard with each other and for each other, facing every challenge head on.

If it wasn't for sophomore Livi Varetimos, junior captain Kate Brewster, and junior captain Morgan Dardia, their success on the field might not have been as sweet. Livi scored 24 goals, the most in the Cape League, while Kate came in third for goals with 11. Morgan finished as the top goalie in the Cape League with a .857 goals against average. The teams' accolades include: Cape League champions, recipients of Cape Cod Sportsmanship Award, and defenders of their home field turf for their playoff game. Following the loss against Needham, the careers of seven seniors came to a close, including: Alexis Papavosiliou (captain), Bridget Botelho (captain), Chloe Higgins, Kaleigh O'Donnell-Birch, Lila Thompson, Reed Kjoller, and Stephanie Stiles.

JARON AFFLECK AKA Ducky

Anyone who has watched a Barnstable game knows that Ducky's commitment to the team and school spirit is unrivaled. After playing basketball for two years of high school, he decided to be the manager for his senior year. On senior night, he was able to suit up with the boys for one last ride, getting six seconds of playing time.

ONE LAST SHOT

The culture of basketball was brought back to the Barnstable High School boy's program this year with the addition of Mr. Taylor to the coaching staff,, as more fans than before began coming to the games. His presence as head coach helped to rally the team and inspire progress throughout the season. This season took off slowly, in part due to the absence of captain Alex Woolery, yet the boys gained momentum after the first five games. In Alex's first game back, the boys beat Marshfield at home with an exciting overtime win. Although they had previously been defeated at Nauset, at home Barnstable conquered the court. They blew out Falmouth at home and clinched the sweep away as well —for the first time in years Although their record may not have reflected it, most losses were hard-fought nail biters. When playing Sandwich at home, they entered into overtime, eventually coming out on with a victory. During their home game against DY, they were up throughout the majority of the game. Unfortunately, the result did not show the hard work and sweat that went into every offensive and defensive possession. Through thick and thin. they persevered for the entirety of the season and ended with a 5-15 record, (4-8 in the Cape and Islands League). After demonstrating outstanding leadership and dedication, seniors Erik Gualberto, J'adaro France, and senior captains Adam Meizinger, Alex Woolery, and Nick Wilson end their final seasons on senior night: February 14, 2020.

Coach's CHRONICLES

Originally, Mr. Taylor began his coaching career with the Barnstable JV girls team; before making the switch to the DY girls program, which lasted 11 years. He had tried to come back and coach the Barnstable boys multiple times, and when the position finally opened up Mr. Taylor jumped on it. In the end, the wait was worth it: he was officially the coach. He has started a new foundation with his philosophies, beliefs, and expectations of the players. Of his boys he says, "I feel as though I have been spoiled with the team that I have this year, with the guys just being so great." Coach Taylor understands the struggle of adjusting to a change and wishes he had more time with the seniors, but he's proud of their ability to execute his expectations with excellence. Regarding the future, Taylor wishes to continue to grow the program; with the goal of making tournament—and one day, winning state. Off the court, he desires to start sending his players to receive higher education, and hopefully continuing their careers. Overall, Coach Taylor just wants to teach the boys how to become men.

Nick Wilson #1

J'adaro France #3

"I loved beating Nauset on coach's birthday and eating cake after to celebrate."

Alex Woolery #10

"The best part of the season is going to team dinners, especially at Chipotle."

Adam Meizinger #12

"My favorite memory was singing Happy Birthday to coach after beating Nauset at home."

Erik Gualberto #44

"The best part of the season was our first win against Marshfield, because it was at home."

The team celebrates after a 47-45 win over Marshfield.

"It meant a lot to me to be able to score my last points with the girls that I started playing basketball with in the beginning." -Reed Kjoller

After she tore her ACL, Reed Kjoller knew that she would likely not be able to play for the Barnstable Girls' Basketball Team again. This changed on senior night, when her coach and teammates surprised her by allowing her to shoot one honorary shot. She reflected on the night, "It meant a lot to me to be able to score my last points with the girls that I started playing basketball with in the beginning."

There It

The Squad

Led by Coach Ross Jatkola, the girls' basketball team had an impressive season this year. Winning six of their first nine games, the team started the year off with a lot of energy and kept that momentum going throughout the entire season. By the end of the season, they had a six game winning streak and were recognized by the Boston Globe. The members of this team had an undeniable connection that existed on and off the court, especially seniors Abby Al-Asousi, Dorian Funk, Dajanay Mendes and Kaleigh O'Donnell-Birch. Many of the girls had been playing basketball together since they started the sport, and were beyond happy to finish their high school careers playing with eachother. This connection combined with their drive, talent, and coaching led them to the playoffs.

As the girls say their final goodbyes to their hockey careers, they would like to thank all the people who have helped and supported them along the way. Annika, Caroline, Polly, Liisa and Neilie have been playing together for so long that they have grown to think of each other as family and will cherish all the memories they have made together. Samantha Van Gelder, a senior who will also be ending her high school hockey career this year as well, has been playing for Barnstable's JV team for two years as a right wing. Despite having a team that had more eighth graders than it did seniors, the team still had the ability to come together and dominate to rank third in the Cape & Islands League. As their season comes to a close, they finished with nine wins, six losses, and three ties. We wish the best to these seniors as they glide through their futures ahead.

PINK IN THE RINK

The Pink In The Rink game is an annual game that the girls ice hockey team plays in honor of Caroline Fries. Caroline was part of the hockey community her whole life and was on the girls varsity hockey team. She was diagnosed with cancer at the age of 15 and passed shortly after. Every year, the girls dress up in pink jerseys and pink socks as a way to allow her legacy to continue. This game means a lot to the team as well as the community's hearts. The girls take pride in wearing pink, and they "wouldn't wear pink with red for anyone except Caroline".

The senior boys have a special tradition where they belly flop off the diving boards every time they win a home meet.

Before each meet, the captains start their Raider chant. "One, we are the Raiders, two, a little bit louder, three, I still can't hear you, four, more, more, more, one!" The echo throughout the pool intimidates the other team, and it gets the Raiders pumped for their first race.

The Barnstable swim team had an exceedingly successful season. The team consisted of eleven boys and twenty-seven girls. The boys ended with a record of 3-5, and managed to receive fourth place at their championship. The girls stayed undefeated, and held their own at the championship. Coach Dan and assistant Coach Ellen wanted to take their team to the next level, and have fun while doing so.

Each member of the swim team expresses that their success comes from the support of everyone else on the team.

The Barnstable High School Gymnastics team had a solid season, winning eight out of nine meets. The team finished fourth in the Cape & Islands League alongside their head coach, Duncan Chase, as his 21st season comes to an end with the help of assistant coach, Jordan Hitchcock. Since the start of their gym season, senior captain, Janua Frasal, said, "We have had a lot of improvement since our first meet and I am proud of how hard the girls worked." The girls received their highest score on January 27, 2020, against Brockton High School, scoring a 136.8. As the season came to a close, we said goodbye to three well-rounded seniors who have been apart of the team for the majority of their high school careers. After suffering a frightening injury her junior year, senior, Taylor Thirabs, returned stronger than ever to finish out her high school gymnastics career. Fraser shined throughout her high school years at Barnstable, as she won states and regionals her eighth grade year and continued on to receive the All Star award four years in a row. Senior captain, Nexts Mumby, said a hard goodbye to the BHS gymnastics team, but plans to further her career in gymnastics after being invited to compete at the collegiate level in the fall of 2020.

We wish these girls the best of luck as they leap into their futures.

The Barnstable High Schools co-ed wrestling team participated in twenty matches finishing their season strong with a final record of seven wins and thirteen losses. Senior captain, Turn William, stated, "Our record does not match the work we put in during practice day in and day out." The team fought strong during their season and placed second out of the three Cape & Islands wrestling's teams. Senior, Invanilly allow, remarked, "We did well, we helped each other, and we strived to improve each other in all aspects of the sport. Wrestling teaches you how to defend yourself and have good sportsmanship." As the team consists of many underclassmen, they still had the ability to pull their weight when going against a tough opponent. In addition, senior, Jack Noodham, brought talent and skill to the mat while competing as a heavy weight. Needham finishes his first and last season as a wrestler with an outstanding record of fifteen wins and just one loss. As the three seniors commemorate their final season as a wrestler for the Barnstable High School wrestling team, they had the pleasure to be coached by their head coach, Dan Helman, and assistant coach, Charlie McWilliams. As their futures come into sight, we hope their ambition continues to grow with them on the rest of their journey off the mat.

The Yearbook staff catches up with the girls and boys winter track to recap their season.

In the year 2020, we say goodbye to seven of our wonderful seniors as they race into their next journey. The senior captains: Kennedy Hunter, Logan Taylor, and Noah Colson have led their team into a successful season. The boys' record was 5-1 while the girls' finished with a record of 4-2. All the seniors: Jessica Donoghue, Benjamin O'toole, Meredith Lamothe, and Ethan Weiner have made a big impact for the up and coming underclassman to keep their winning record on "track".

GSA helps raise awareness for safety and equality in our school and community. This club is a safe place for students of any race, religion or sexual preference. This club has been running for many years across the country. Ms. Brown took the club over about seven years ago. GSA puts on events including the National Day of Silence, which is held in April. It's a time when students stand against bullying and the harassment of LGBTQ youth.

Ms. Brown's favorite part of being the club advisor:

"Knowing LGBT students and Allies have a safe place and know they are accepted and are not alone; we try and make a difference promoting awareness".

Role-Playing Games is a club in which students play roles of characters in a fictional setting. The club started about two years ago. In that time, RPG went from around 7-9 students to 29-31 committed players.

Ms. Harkin's favorite part of being the club advisor:

"Getting to know the students outside a classroom setting.

I get the chance to see their creativity, imagination, humor, and problem solving skills in action".

Military Support Club is an opportunity for students to connect with the troops in our community. The members work closely with local military members and have partnerships with Joint Base Cape Cod, PAVE PAWS and Veterans' Hospitals.

Kate Crawford

Kate was a member of the National Honors Society and an active officer of DECA. She enjoys spending time with her friends, family and dogs. Kate worked as a nanny and will also start as a CNA at Cape Cod Hospital. Kate likes to go to the beach, grab dinner with friends and go out on her boat. Kate plans to attend either Umass Boston or University of Rhode Island to study Nursing.

Annika Pasic

Annika had been a part of the Barnstable Public Schools since kindergarten. Throughout her years in Barnstable she had played hockey for the Town of Barnstable her whole hockey career. Along with hockey, Annika played volleyball her freshman and sophomore year as well as softball her eighth grade year. She had been a part of the Barnstable High School Girls Varsity lee Hockey team since freshman year and led her team as a captain her senior year. Annika had excelled in school throughout her years at Barnstable and was a member of the National Honors Society. In addition, Annika led her schools business club, DECA, as an officer and was a part of the Peer Leadership program. As Annika's high school career came to an end, she planned to continue her education at the University of Massachusetts - Boston in the fall of 2020, majoring in either elementary education or nursing. She enjoys traveling, the beach, Bruins games, and hanging out with friends.

Anna Prchlik

Throughout her three years of Barnstable so far, Anna has enjoyed ice hockey, field hockey, and being a part of the Environmental Club. She is passionate about marine life and being outdoors. Additionally, she started Cape Cod Chokers two summers ago. Anna likes to paint with acrylics, skateboard, and snowboard in her free time. She is excited to come back her senior year to create the 2021 yearbook!

Caroline Badot

Caroline was a member of NHS, DECA, Key Club, and Best Buddies. She has been dancing since she was three and plans to continue in the future. She loves working with kids, and spends her summers as a camp counselor for the YMCA. Her favorite things include getting Thai food, driving in the car with friends, and going down Cape. Her goal is to get her law degree and use it to help others.

Erin Rooney

Erin was a member of NHS, SHS, Peer Leadership and Best Buddies. She was on the varsity cheerleading team for four years and was captain her senior year. Erin will be attending Simmons University for the fall of 2020 to study special education. Outside of school, Erin enjoys eating burritos, sipping smoothies, and spending time with her dog, Bandit.

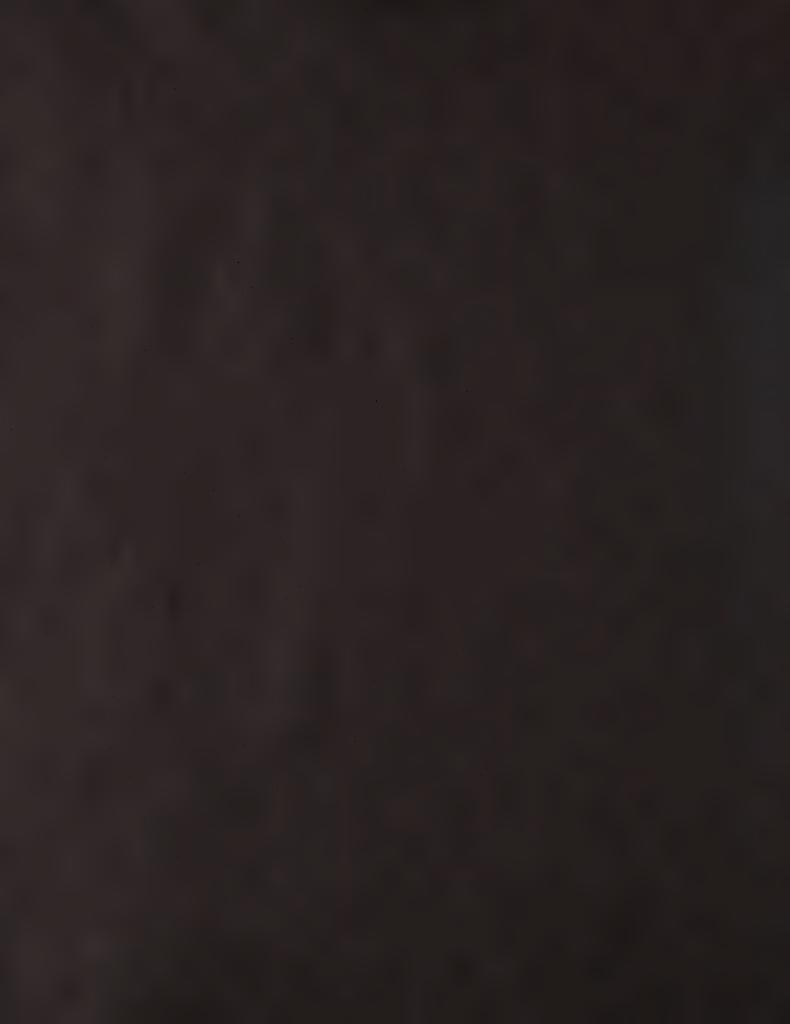

Chloe Higgins

Chloe was a Peer Leader and a member of the National Honors Society, Math Honors Society, and was in the Spanish Honors Society. She was the Vice President of DECA, part of the prom committee, and played soccer for 14 years-including two years at the varsity level. She plans on double majoring in political science and economics in college, with the goal of becoming a corporate attorney.

What is your strength in your Music Tech Independent Study?

What is your strength in your Music Tech Independent Study?

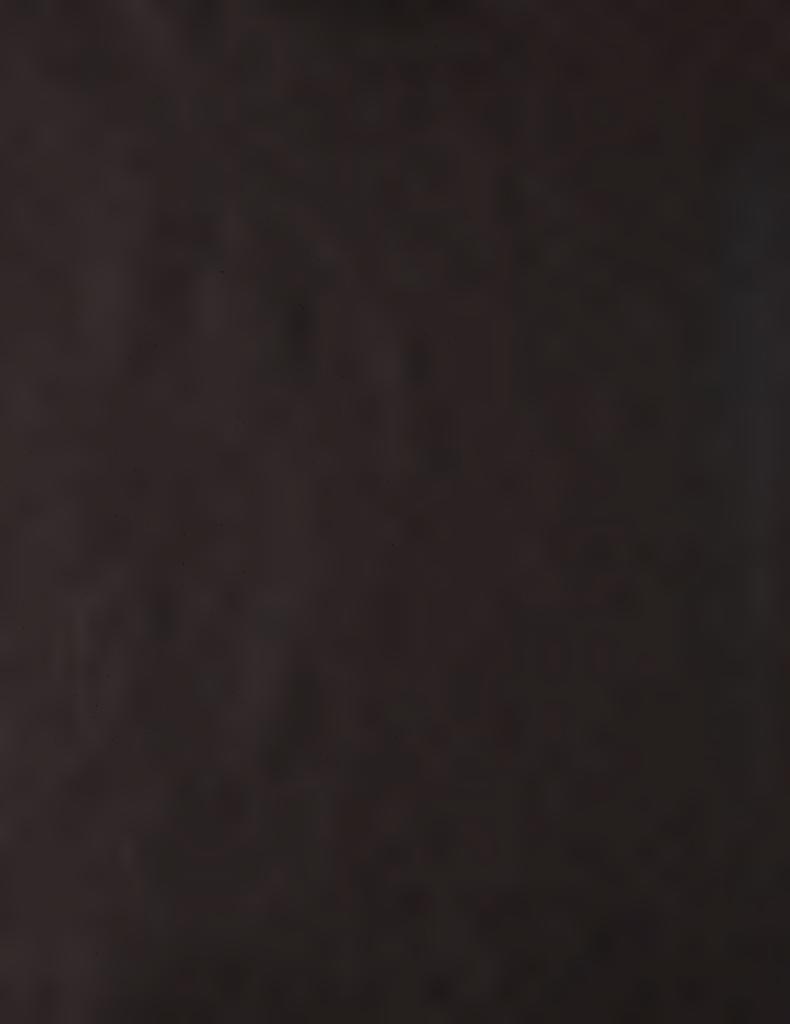

"When I was younger, I played the trumpet in the school band, and I learned music theory on my own. In this independent study, my strength is creating melodic patterns."

Ethan Weiner

"Ben and I are hoping to create a collection of diverse beats in the rap/hip-hop genre, and have a friend add some lyrics. My strength is the rhythm base section/percussion."

Music is everywhere at BHS. From the Music Technology Mac Lab, where students learn to create their own beats and songs on programs like GarageBand, to the halls after school where the Jazz Band's intensive practices resonate throughout the halls. The BHS Jazz Band performs evening events for the Barnstable community, participates in local and state competitions, and creates a community of creative musicians. Orchestra, which contains all of the string instruments, performs in the winter and spring concerts held at school—accompanied by Band. This year, the two joined forces and played a piece together at the Winter Concert that lifted the spirits of the whole crowd. Band is the largest music section and meets A block; all sections are able to practice together at that time. The music community has flourished over our time at Barnstable High School.

Also, the family that you become a part of and the support everyone gives each other." DIOS & DESIGN BY CHLOE HIGGINS

Senior year brought two viruses that robbed us of experiences. First Triple E came in the fall, everyone panicked and bought as much bug spray as possible— as it spread from mosquitoes. Because of this, all night sporting events were canceled from the second week of school, until the first frost. Then came COVID-19, Corona Virus, that brought mass hysteria, and canceled all field trips for the rest of the year, and school for over three weeks. During this time, most businesses were closed, all were struggling, the stock market crashed, gatherings of greater than ten were prohibited, and Tom Brady left the Patriots.

High School is a difficult time with drama and big life changes, all while trying to finish your school work and prepare for 101 future. Yasmin Monterio has learned that, "You might not le leaving high school with the same friendships you walked n with." As friendships come and go, we are able to discover more about others, as well as ourselves. Ashley Hamblin states, "I believe the key to friendships lasting throughout had school is being able to communicate with yourself as well is the people close to you, and being able to surround yours if with positivity and honesty within those relationships in or or to have a healthy friendship."

Our experiences have taught us an abundance of lessons throughout our time in high school, Ellie McWilliams learned, "Showing up matters." On the other hand, Caroline Lewis determined, "Quality ove quantity." Erin LaRiviere mastered self care. Carrissa Malaspino was taught that, "You have the surround yourself with those who support you." We have all learned lessons beyond the classroom. It is imperation that we recall these and take them with us remembering that we can overcome anything life throws at us.

Since starting at the High School, the mascot has discretely changed. In older memorabilia a Native American can be seen as the representation of Barnstable. As the controversy of Massachusetts mascots increased, parents appealed to state lawmakers, claiming that the mascots perpetuate stereotypes and harmed Native Americans. While many see mascots as tradition, not malicious, ou logo became more amicable. During our freshmen year, it solely became a "B" inside a circle, with a feather coming off of the side.

/ arer Bottles

Around 82% of BHS seniors say that they use a refillable water bottle often. Since we have been at Barnstable High School, three water filtration fountains have been installed. This enabled us to fill up with clean water at school, which was not possible before. We have become a healthier community because of it.

X2 by Aspen is the waite where students and parents can check gras, transcripts, and GPAs. One used to be able to viciciass rank, but we no longer have that--meaning walso do not have a valedictorian. Instead Use decile to rank students. Still, 72% of seniors stiney check this site often, if not religiously, with also having the app on their phone to notify of any grade updates.

The bathrooms at school came a controversial topic over the course of our till here. Many students, especially females, grew raged over the poor upkeep and conditions of their facilities. Alison Kearney started an instagram, where others could send proof of their complaints, to she light on the issue. She claims, "The school needs to focus more on the essentials like working toilets, sinks, and better toilet paper. We can't foster a clean environment and better habits when there's puddles all over the floor."

Hubs were new to Barnstable this year, as the switch was made from Houses in an effort to restructure the administration. Most seniors were able to keep their same guidance counselor, but as housemasters became deans many students were displaced. Madi Madore was moved around so much that she had three different guidance counselors by the start of senior year. On the bright side, students say that the best parts of their hubs are the administration, citing how helpful, welcoming and supportive they are as reasons why.

Throughout high school, people became more driven to be health conscious, wanting to eat better and exercise. This push not only made us physically healthier, but also mentally stronger and more confident. Many students tried going vegetarian and vegan too. Sofia Haliou says, "My junior year I decided to go vegan and that changed both my overall health for the better. I went vegan for the planet and animals, but it ended up being the best decision I could have made for my personal health."

echnology

Starting Junior year, Chromebooks were handed out to all students at our school. Technology is always evolving, and this is when it truly became implemented in the classroom. Ellie Swindler claims, "It has helped bring more interactive elements into learning, as well as opened doors to new things and ways to explore topics in the classroom." Although some teachers are struggling to get used to these advances in the learning process, this is the future of

IVILITY Friday

This school year, Mr. Clark decided to take on a new project; civility. His goal was to bring more kindness and courtesy to the halls and in the classrooms of Barnstable High School. He announced that every friday be a "Civility Friday" and created t-shirts for every teacher to wear for the occasion. It was the consensus that our school was struggling with this, and that shedding light on the issue helped.

Due to COVID-19, various cancellations occurred in the last three months of senior year. Events that we were looking forward to were gone in an instant. Nationals in California for Hockey, ICDC in Nashville for DECA, a Music Conference in New York City, our Senior Trip, and weeks of school just to name a few. We are the class of 2020 and we had a huge obstacle thrown in the way of our last year, interrupting our last chances to see our friends. From this, we know that we are strong and can overcome whatever life throws at us. Our impact on the world will be our ability to endure and drive positive change for the future.

The majority of the senior class enjoys spending their free time at the beach. On half days, it is a mad dash to the Long Beach parking lot. On spring weekends and almost everyday in the summer, you are bound to find a minimum of 25 classmates getting their tan on or splashing around in the waves. The ocean is a huge part of who we are, because it surrounds everything we do. No matter where we go, we will never forget the time we spent with the sand under our toes.

Understanding Diversity is a senior English class that has evolved over the years to target current issues. as its curriculum is fluid. Taking this course enables one to be more open-minded and understanding, and all the material relates to phenomena that occurs daily around the world, Kaleigh O'Donnell-Birch exclaims, "I recommend the class because if everyone tries harder to be more understanding of diversity, then our generation could solve a lot of issues by being able to work together."

generation

We are Gen Z, along with the rest of those born from the mid-1990s to the early 2000s. We are more likely to be online than any other generation--whether it be shopping, watching entertainment, or social networking. As a whole, we are more accepting of others. We take more risks, and speak our minds. We are about to make our impact and change the world.

REVIEW

February 2020

On January 30,2020 there was an outbreak of the Coronavirus. This pandemic originated in China and has spread to more than 100 locations. On March 11,2020 our president issued a no traveling band to Europe for 30 days. This virus has caused many people to panic and clear shelves at all grocery stores. Barnstable High School closed for an extended time starting on March 13,2020. Many lives were affected because of this horrible pandemic.

October

In the fall of 2019, a new virus had emerged called Triple E. This caused some of our football games to be moved from night games to day games. Triple E is a viral infection that is transmitted by mosquitos.

Later in the year, the charges were dropped.

Green Club is a community service based club that focuses on improving the quality of life here in Barnstable. Senior President, Chime Peizom, organizes most of the beach clean-ups, and other related activities. Green Club cares about our community, and the impact that they have with the future of it as well. They encourage everybody to attend their events and clean-ups to help bring change to Barnstable.

Caroline Floren has a deep love for the Special Ed community here in Barnstable. She says, "I have tried to shed light towards inclusion. It is so important to make everyone feel important...We try to share this message in Best Buddies."

Senior, Sofia Hallu spends her F&G Block at the Barnstable Clean Water Coalition. At the BCWC, their mission is to restore and preserve the water quality in the town of Barnstable, all while trying to educate the public about the importance of water quality here on Cape. Sofia has always been passionate about the environment and she hopes to become an environmental lawyer and fight for the future of our planet.

Seniors, Abby Al-Asousi, Caroline Badot, and Nellie Fromhein started "Soles for Souls" in their business class this year. Their teacher, Mrs. Maurice, gave them the opportunity to lead a community service project and they took it. They partnered with the company "Funds2orgs" and created a shoe drive across the town of Barnstable. All of the shoes were donated to micro entrepreneurs in developing countries, and any of the funds raised will be given to the local homeless shelter, Safe Harbor.

All three of the girls have found the process to be very eye-opening and exciting. They are extremely happy to have even a little impact on their community.

Senior Morgan Contrino, president of Key Club, speaks about her involvement in our community. "The other members and I have organized and participated in activities such as tutoring students in a "Homework Club" at BIS, planning holiday parties to spend time with the kids at Founder's Court for after school care, making friendship bracelets to raise funds for Australian wildfire relief, collaborating with Green Club at beach clean ups, and we are making more plans to come this year. It means a lot to me and to all the members to help the community in small ways."

Celita Cadet and Adelaide Bsharah are both active members in the Community Leadership and Empowerment Club. They both speak highly of their affect on our community. Celita says, "The club is important to me because it allows me to become an active member in my community and help give people in my community someone to look up to. Helping and teaching others is very fulfilling." Adelaide says, "In a school and society where there are so many underlying issues, to be able to be part of a club that makes its goal about raising up ourselves and other people is really great."

Where has The Time Gone?

Africant retiring, Mr Kostinas can't wait to watch the sun come up and the leaves fall. He wants to be able to do everyday things that go by when you are going to your job. wishing you luck, Mr. K!

Thank you for your service to our school:)

Some well wishes for Chris Mendes...

We are all soins to miss you so much. I was so, so sad when they moved you from our section. I will especially miss our discussions about the triple crown and horses in seneral. Who am I soins to sive my picks to now? I'm sure they won't understand my pickins winners by names. I wish you all the best at whatever retirement brings you. It just won't be the same without you here. Enjoy! - Mrs Lahteine

It has been a Joy to work with Chris over the past 10 years. He is kind, collegial and meticulous. There are so many reasons why those of us who have had Chris as a custodian know he is THE BEST there is. Over this past winter break, which was longer than most, he kept my plants watered and even deadheaded the brown leaves! He's such a generous person who takes pride in his work and connects with his collegaues. We are sad to see him go, not just because he is great at his job, but because he is a great person. Chris, I hope you spend as many days as you can relaxing on the beaches of Florida and Aruba. Enjoy every horse race and every evening off. Much peace and happiness.

BJ has spen+ almos+ half of his life working here. He's impacted many of our lives, especially the diverse culture in our school Everyday at the Junior Senior cafe he always puts a smile on everyone's face. We will miss BJ With his funny. energetic, uplifting personality. We wish you the best BJ on your retirement. - Amy Farjardo

Farwell to a Favorite...

"If I had not had Mrs. Mclaughlin as my English teacher junior year. I would not be the student I am today. She made me feel more comfortable and confident in an English classroom. She often taught the class through projects with visuals. Mrs. Mclaughlin is one of the few teachers who actually cares about her students. She would often ask how I was doing and you could tell she genuinely cared. Mrs. Mciaushiin was super understanding and accommodating when I was out sick. When I stayed after and told her what I was struggling with, she suggested pienty of resources that I needed to help me succeed. We would learn vocabulary and she would use the vocabulary words in a funny story which would help with remembering them. Mrs. McIaughlin has been my favorite English teacher and my favorite teacher in all of high school."

To Chris

Thank you for your:outstanding work-ethic, spirit of excellence, heart-felt care for students, staff and the school building, great sense of humor, and for simply being YOU!

You truly will be missed. Wishing you all the best! -m&m gyra

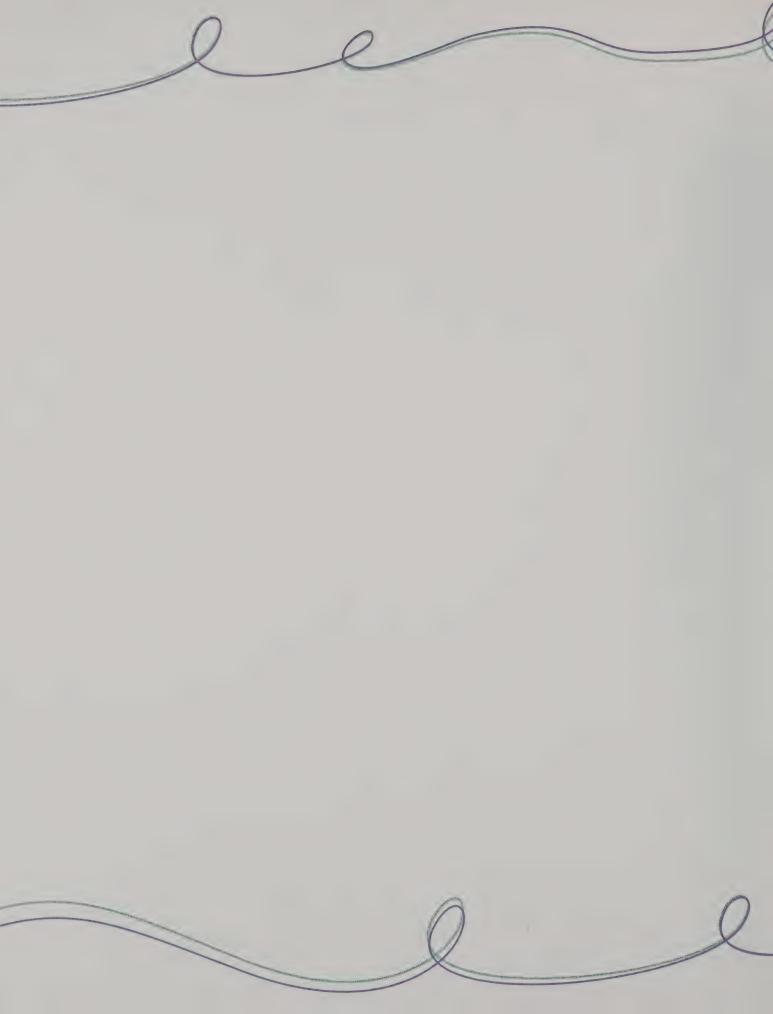

Since I started my teaching Journey eight years ago, Chris has always greeted me with a smile and warm conversation. After iong days with students and staying at school until far into dinner time. Chris always made me feel welcome and safe at Barnstable.

I will miss him at Barnstable, especially because of his pride and dedication to his craft. Chris, I appreciate your hard work + kindness. You will be sorely missed! - Kaityan Whidden
